WRITERS

Nigerians Abroad Magazine is always looking for new ideas, and welcomes queries and pitches from writers for both our magazine and website.

Nigerians Abroad articles focuses on an issue, event, organization, person, project, or place related to public interest in any part of the world. However, articles focusing on information that will be of most benefit to Nigeria and Nigerians home and abroad will be most welcome. The majority of the articles will directly or indirectly address the politics of nation building and its socio-economic growth and development.

SUBMITTING A PROPOSAL

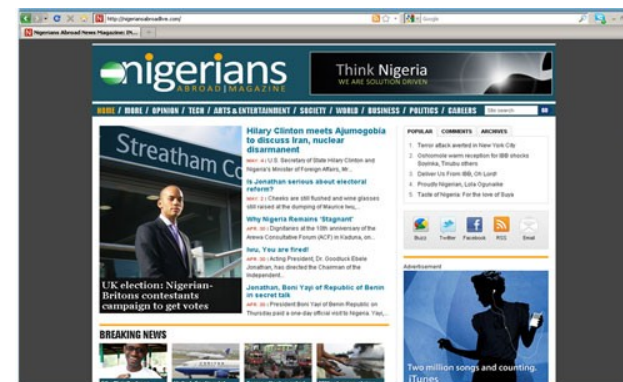

We welcome proposals from both experienced and inexperienced writers. Writing for the web site is an especially good opportunity for new writers who are looking to explore ideas and formats best suited for the digital world. Most articles that do not make it into the printed magazine will usually become part of the NigeriansAbroadLive.com web site upon the issue's launch.
